Meet the Dillers!

Sarah and I are so excited to finally be in Columbus and, more importantly, with each of you. We have been praying for, thinking about, and eagerly awaiting this day! While we were honored to get to interact with many of you when we visited earlier this year, I thought you might like to hear a few things about us.

My hometown is Pueblo, Colorado. My parents moved there to open a pizza restaurant when I was a year old. I was blessed to have a loving family, an opportunity to learn to work hard (I've made lots of pizzas), and a great youth group at church. By God's grace I was led into full-time ministry, influenced by Scripture, Christian books, prayer, and opportunities given to me by my hometown church to experience what it was like to preach and teach about Jesus. I went to Freed-Hardeman University and received a BA in Biblical Studies and am on pace to receive my Master of Divinity next year. But my greatest blessing in attending FHU was meeting Sarah and marrying her almost three years ago (1/7/17).

Sarah's hometown is Madison, AL. She was also blessed to have a loving family and an encouraging church family/youth group—and, even though she didn't grow up making pizzas, she is a very hard worker. She graduated from FHU with her BSN and is a Registered Nurse. She currently works as a Clinical Validation Team Lead for Cotiviti. Since the day I met her I have been trying to be half as kind, patient, and devoted as she is. She leads by example and I am blessed to be her partner in life and ministry!

While we both take our jobs seriously, we are also fairly laid-back people. We enjoy reading, watching and playing sports, traveling, and spending time with family and friends. We are nowhere near perfect, but we strive to follow our perfect Savior and trust that his grace is sufficient in our weakness (2 Cor 12:9).

We are convinced that the Lord has, is, and will continue to use this church to change lives. Each of us has a part to play in God's plan and mission (1 Cor 12:12-27), and ours is no more significant than anyone else's. We are so excited about what God can accomplish through his church when we all work together!

Waiting

The waiting is the hardest part. There's something you're excited for and all you can do is wait. Whether it's Christmas, a vacation, or hiring a new minister, you can't speed up time. All you can do is sit, be still, and wait. How do you handle the times when you have to wait for something? Do you sit with nervousness? Do you run around trying to do a million things to take your mind off what you are waiting for?

While we may feel like we can't do anything to help things go faster we can still be productive. Romans 12 talks about the service that we offer for each other and towards God. In Romans 12:12 Paul writes, "Be joyful in hope, patient in affliction, faithful in prayer."

We have hope in God which is something that we should cause us to be joyful. This puts our attitude in check. We are to be patient when we are in affliction which requires trust. To be patient in affliction demands our trust be placed in God. Finally, it says to be faithful in prayer. This is direct communication with God, and it needs to be consistent communication with God.

So, while we wait for things, we can be joyful, patient, and talking to God the whole time. Then soon enough the waiting is over. Here at Rose Hill we've been waiting to see who God would send our way as the next minister. Today we are thankful for the wait to be over, we are joyful for the Diller's joining our family, and we are thankful for answered prayers
