Hello, my name is Noah Jordan, and I am so excited to be visiting with you all today. This weekend my girlfriend, Avery Amundson, and I have come to visit regarding the open youth ministry position and to get to know your congregation. We are from Cincinnati, Ohio, and we both are currently seniors in college at Harding University. I am currently pursuing a bachelor's degree in Bible and Family Ministry. Avery is pursuing a bachelor's degree of Science in Nursing. We are both excited to step into the life to which God has called us. We want to thank you all for your time and service this weekend to make our stay here so wonderful, loving, and intentional.

My favorite New Testament writer is the disciple John, mainly because I think he makes the gospel simple for us to understand. He does not try to complicate it for us, but he does not try to sugar coat it for us either. John gives some stark contrasts for us to seriously consider. The letter of 1 John is filled with many of these contrasts: light and darkness (1:5-2:2), love and hatred (2:3-11 & 3:11-18), children of God and children of the devil (2:28-3:10). Today we will be looking at 1 John 3:11-18, which communicates to us that loving one another is the difference between life and death. Our whole lives we have heard the phrase, "love your neighbor" or "love one another." We have heard it so much that we are probably tired of hearing it by now or we may even think that we have it figured out. I personally think that the devil wants us to think these things. He wants us to believe the lies that come from our pride and that we have it all figured out. I think it is time that we recognize this kind of thinking in our own lives. The kind of life that Jesus calls us to is humility, service, and submission. John will constantly remind us that we must choose a life with Jesus or life away from Jesus. There is no middle ground, although many often try to live in the middle ground. A life with Christ calls us to make a choice, not just once, but daily to follow him and to love one another.

Staying in Touch with YOUTH

It's Raining Fish?

You've heard the expression, "It's raining cats and dogs!" haven't you? Of course, you realize that when someone makes that statement, you don't go running outside in hopes of claiming a free pet or that you need to be careful not to step in a "poodle!" We know that phrase is just an expression indicating that it's raining really hard. But what if someone were to tell you, "It's raining fish!"? You wouldn't be tempted to get your rod and reel and bait and stand outside hoping to catch your dinner, would you? Believe it or not, back in 2021 in Texarkana, Texas, it really did rain fish from the sky! I don't know if that the citizens of that town thought that they were receiving a bounty from above in the form of sushi, fish sticks or yummy filets, but I have to imagine that the downpour of fish surprised and even shocked quite a few people!

Now while I have never lived anywhere where such a phenomenon has occurred, I do know that every day I exist, I am treated to a bounty from above! For from heaven's throne, I am given grace, I am showered with love, and I'm allowed to rejoice in a downpour of providence. Because "every good and perfect gift come from above" (Jas. 1:17), I know God will send comfort when I'm sorrow, a friend when I'm lonely and an encourager when I feel down. Showers of blessings will fill my life and among those good gifts will be forgiveness when I've repented from a wayward action, knowing that Almighty God is listening to my prayers (and answers them in the ways that are best for me), and assuring me that in the midst, all will be okay (cf. Rom. 8:28-38). I may never see fish coming from the sky, by my heart tells me I will daily see good gifts come from above!

Lesson 6

Joseph

Memory Verse:

"Be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, as God in Christ forgave you." Ephesians 4:32

In this lesson, your child will be taught about the importance of praying and seeking to do God's will through learning about Joseph, the dreams he interpreted, and the relationship with his brothers. Please discuss these stories with your child so that they will continue to learn and study God's word throughout the week.
